News in brief

North Viet offensive on

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP)—North Vietnam's current offensive is a six-month dry-season campaign to force the Saigon government to carry out the political provisions of the two-year-old Paris peace agreement in a way favorable to the Communists, Western diplomats think. "North Vietnam doesn't believe a general offensive is necessary," said one Western diplomat. "They feel they can accomplish their aims with limited military actions." Negotiations to carry out the political provisions of the peace agreement have been suspended since last April. The main stumbling point appears to be a provision in the agreement calling for formation of a Council of National Reconciliation and Concord, made up of the Saigon regime, the Viet Cong and an undefined third force. "Saigon says the third element is to be chosen by both sides and the council's function is only to organize general elections," said one diplomat. "The Viet Cong say the third element is not to be chosen by two sides, that anyone who shows up can belong, and that the council's function is to take over the government until elections are organized." President Nguyen Van Thieu believes that the Viet Cong's version would be the first step toward a coalition government that would lead to a Communist takeover of the South. The Viet Cong are said to fear that they could not win a general election as long as Thieu controls the administrative machinery and government, including the army and police.

Gasoline dealers halted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Justice Department lawyers believe they have eliminated schemes by gasoline dealers for violating federal price regulations. The department brought 98 civil suits accusing gas station operators of overcharging their customers either directly or through such tactics as requiring them to buy tires or other equipment as a condition for purchasing gasoline. About 40 cases still are pending, but the department has won all the others, the attorneys said.

British hijacker nabbed

LONDON (AP)—Police at an airport north of London overpowered the hijacker of a British airliner Tuesday night, freed the five members of the plane crew and recovered 100,000 pounds ($230,000) in ransom. The only casualty was a steward who was bitten by a police dog. The police did not announce the identity of the hijacker but said he had "Arabic features" and was about 27.

False arrest means $s

BOSTON (AP)—Shoplifters who claim false arrest are creating problems for merchants, a legislative committee has been told.

"There are a few professionals who are baiting people for false arrest," Joseph Fernandes, board chairman of a chain of supermarkets, told Massachusetts' special legislative Commission on Shoplifting, Tuesday.

"What they do is take the stuff and dispose of it and then you pick them up and they're clean and they say, 'I'll settle for $200.' If they do that every day they're making a pretty good living."

Fernandes, a member of the commission, said his stores pick up 75 to 100 shoplifters a week, some of them children stealing candy.

Schools open with police

BOSTON (AP)—Hundreds of policemen were scheduled for duty today as students return to classes at the South Boston High School complex for the first time since an outbreak of racial violence Dec. 11. Most of the 400 state, metropolitan and local officers were assigned to South Boston High or routes leading to the school. South Boston High and three companion buildings were closed Dec. 11 after a white student was stabbed, allegedly by a black. The incident led to an angry confrontation between white parents and police. The schools have been plagued by sporadic outbreaks of violence since they opened for the fall term under a partial desegregation order that requires the busing of about 18,000 of the city's 87,000 students.

Ford, GM ponder discount

DETROIT (AP)—Auto industry analysts believe other U.S. car makers may have to follow Chrysler Corporation's lead in granting major price rebates of up to $400 on specific models to boost sales. But spokesmen for General Motors and Ford Motor Co. said that their firms had no immediate plans to discount their models. Chrysler, saddled with 320,000 unsold 1975 models, is launching the auto industry's first big price discounts since domestic car sales began plummeting more than a year ago. Chrysler will offer the rebates to buyers of new cars and light trucks beginning Monday in an unprecedented five-week campaign which it hopes will stimulate sales.

Confusion over trade law

The Ford Administration finds itself in a ballooning squabble with Latin America over provisions Congress put into the new trade law. The disputed section allows manufactured products from developing countries to enter the United States duty-free, but Congress excluded all members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries and also authorized President Ford to suspend tariff preferences to countries that form other trade-restricting cartels or that nationalize American holdings without compensation. Venezuela and Ecuador, the two Latin American members of the OPEC, say they will boycott the meeting Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger is planning with Latin American foreign ministers in Buenos Aires in March to launch a "new dialogue" between the United States and the southern nations of the hemisphere. Peru, which hopes to start exporting oil within two years, pledged its full support, and Colombia, trying to form an OPEC of coffee countries, said the Latin Americans should consider a general boycott of Kissinger's meeting.

House tax cut hinted

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Democrats are preparing an economic package which includes a tax cut as an antidote to one of the nation's deepest postwar economic recessions. A 10-member task force appointed by Speaker Carl Albert last month to develop recession remedies has tentatively decided on a sizable tax cut for low- and middle-income taxpayers, credit allocation, interest-rate reductions, and more public services jobs for the unemployed.

Navy task force sailing for Indian Ocean

WASHINGTON (AP) — A powerful Navy carrier task force sailed toward the Indian Ocean today as rumblings persist over Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's implied warning of possible U.S. military action in a grave oil emergency.

The six-ship task force, led by the 85,000-ton nuclear-powered aircraft carrier Enterprise, was expected to enter the Indian Ocean within a few days after a voyage from the U.S. 7th Fleet base in Subic Bay, the Philippines.

The Pentagon acknowledged the Enterprise's sailing but declined to identify its destination. However, sources said the carrier, the nuclear-propelled guided missile cruiser Long Beach, two destroyers, a supply ship and an oiler were bound for the Indian Ocean.

Pentagon spokesman William Beecher said Tuesday the task force was on an operational mission but he denied reports it was bound for waters off South Vietnam, where government troops have been reeling under Communist attack.

The White House affirmed the Pentagon statement. At the same time, President Ford was described as watching developments in South Vietnam closely.

Congress has banned any U.S. bombing or other military action in Indochina. Any such move would require prior congressional approval, officials agreed.

In Honolulu, Adm. Noel Gayler, commander of U.S. military forces in the Pacific, said it was "difficult to imagine" any circumstances under which American troops would be sent back to Vietnam.

Speaking on the NBC-TV "Today Show" to be broadcast Thursday, Gayler said the possible fall of the Thieu regime—or any regime in South Vietnam—would not be circumstances for intervention by U.S. troops.

Defense sources insisted no show of force was intended in the voyage of the Enterprise group through the South China Sea. These sources indicated the task force would come no closer than about 350 miles from the South Vietnamese coast.

Pentagon officials said the impending month-long Indian Ocean cruise of the Enterprise with its 80 warplanes had been planned for weeks. The six ships will replace another task force headed by the carrier Constellation, which left the Indian Ocean about a month ago.

The United States has been rotating naval groups in and out of the Indian Ocean on a fairly regular basis since late 1973, following the Mideast war.

Watergate figures freed

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica today ordered John W. Dean III, Jeb Stuart Magruder and Herbert W. Kalmbach released from prison.

All three men had been serving sentences as a result of guilty pleas in Watergate-related crimes.

Dean, formerly White House counsel to President Richard M. Nixon, had been serving a one-to-four-year term after pleading guilty to a single count of conspiracy to obstruct justice. Magruder, the former deputy director of the Committee for the Re-Election of the President, was serving a term of at least 10 months.

Kalmbach, a major Nixon fund-raiser and his former personal attorney, had pleaded guilty to violating campaign laws and one count of selling an ambassadorship in return for a political contribution. He was serving a sentence of six to 18 months.

Sirica had sentenced all three men. His two-paragraph order releasing them did not give the reasons for ending the prison sentences.

The three men all had testified at the recent Watergate cover-up trial, which resulted in the conviction of John N. Mitchell, H. R. Haldeman, John D. Ehrlichman and Robert C. Mardian.

All three had applied for a reduction of sentence on varying grounds.

Brezhnev to U.S. cancer center

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Globe said today that Leonid I. Brezhnev would enter the Sidney Farber Cancer Center here today, but in Moscow authorities said the Soviet leader was there for the funeral of his mother.

In Washington, State Department officials said "we have no evidence to support" the newspaper's story.

Newsman in the Soviet capital saw Brezhnev's limousine in his mother's funeral procession although they did not see the 68-year-old Soviet Communist party chief himself. However, Soviet officials at the scene told them he was present.

A spokesman at the Soviet Foreign Ministry said he had no comment on the Boston Globe's report. Top-ranking officials at the U.S. Embassy in Moscow said they had no information on the report.

The Globe in a front-page story said a police source told it that the Soviet leader would enter the cancer center at the Children's Hospital complex sometime today.

However, the Boston office of the FBI, the state police, the cancer center and airport officials all told The Associated Press they knew nothing of the reported visit.

Initial inquiries to the State Department and the Secret Service in Washington drew no comment.

Last Friday, syndicated columnist Charles Bartlett reported that while Soviet spokesmen were saying Brezhnev canceled a scheduled trip to Cairo next week because he had the flu, he actually was suffering from leukemia.

The Soviet news agency Tass had announced on Dec. 30 that the trip was postponed indefinitely. No reason was given.

en. Later, an Egyptian newspaper said "health reasons" forced cancellation of the trip.

The Globe said White House and State Department officials it questioned about the visit said "they had no information on which to base confirmation or denial of the reports" of a Boston trip.

Smoke hampers firemen

A small one-story house in Nachusa was heavily damaged by fire late this morning. The Dixon Rural Fire Department and its Nachusa station were called to the home, located one block west of Nachusa Road in the village. The cause of the fire and extent of the damage was not available at presstime. Firemen were unable to get inside the home because of extensive smoke. A hydrant at Edelman Company was used to get extra water to fight the blaze. (Telegraph Photo)

Panama threatened by Red neighbors

By HENRY J. TAYLOR

Behind the scenes, the Panama Canal erupts again. We own the zone in perpetuity by the Hay-Bunau-Varilla Treaty of Nov. 18, 1903. But Washington has negotiated another give-away.

The Canal cost the American taxpayers more than $6 billion. We would give away to Panama our legal ownership entirely.

I dined with Nicaraguan President Anastasio Somoza Debayle at the New York home of former Asst. Sec. of State for American Republic Affairs Spruille Braden. Except Nicaragua, the U.S. 10-mile-wide Panama Canal Zone has been the only zone of stability in the entire region. But President Somoza said Fidel Castro had made 22 armed attempts to invade Nicaragua.

Additionally, Nicaragua made world headlines on Dec. 27 when Castroite guerrillas killed three guards and the host and seized as hostages 35 prominent Nicaraguans at a Christmas party for American Ambassador Turner B. Shelton, demanding the release and flight to Cuba of 14 Castroite prisoners.

President Somoza also spelled out in detail the Red plans in Panama.

The Latin-American Communists see their take-over opportunity with the forbearance of a hungry shark. Their purpose in Panama is the black flag of anarchy and the Red flag of Moscow.

Castro's guerrilla fleet is moving armed fighters into Panama. Their embarkation is La Colma, Cuba. Air deliveries are from a heavily guarded Soviet air base at San Julian, 90 miles southeast of Havana. The propaganda support is sparked from Castro's powerful Russian-built radio station on Cuba's Key Breton peninsula.

Costa Rica borders on Panama. Castro has reinstalled there famous Havana-based Costa Rican Communist Julio Sunol. And his resident agent in Panama itself is Communist Thelma King. She won her spurs in 1964 when four U.S. soldiers were killed in the riot in our Canal Zone. Thelma King herself led the rioters into the U.S. Canal Zone and has been boasting about killing these U.S. soldiers ever since.

In addition, the Republic of Panama (population 1½ million) is also directly threatened on its two frontiers by Communist guerrillas as well as internally.

How can anyone ignore the fact that Panama borders on chaotic Costa Rica and Colombia? Is it news that imported Red guerrillas are staging a horrible shooting war in nearby El Salvador? Are we to forget the Red-instigated insurrections in neighboring Guatemala and Honduras? Moreover, the Republic of Panama itself is a faction-ridden political jungle.

Dr. Arnulfo Arias was elected President May 12, 1968. Brig. Gen. Omar Torrijos Herrera, the present head of the army, threw out Arias in an iron-fisted coup. Then Torrijos made a mistake. He left Panama and went to Mexico City to take in a horse race.

Torrijos's absence was enough for two of his rivals to seize Panama's government and declare Torrijos kaput. He flew back to Panama the next day and his rivals were kaput.

Torrijos himself is a Red fellow traveler, to say the least, and his ministers of foreign affairs and labor are outright Communists, directed in the customary way from Moscow.

Demagogues abound. Their tirades about "Yankee imperialism," "The Yankee dollar," etc., light a contrived fuse under Panamanian emotions and serve to distract the people from much that should be done.

Panama is blessed with an amazing amount of rich, arable land, as rich as the best farmland in Iowa. But less than half of it is under cultivation. Panama's true need is for better agriculture, animal husbandry and light industry. Yet it's easy for nearly any politician to roar against the United States—and bite Panama's only feeding hand.

The global strategic importance of the Panama Canal in U.S. hands is self-evident. And as for Latin America, 80 per cent of Peru's and Chile's imports and exports pass through it. The dependency is equivalent along the entire Pacific side of the South American continent.

Fortunately, our Senate may stop this outrageous give-away. For the real question is not the surrender of U.S. control of the Canal versus Panamanian control. The real question is U.S. control versus Communist control.

It should be debated in the Senate on that basis—for this is the stark reality. No wonder we ask all over the world "What are we losing?" not "What are we gaining?"

There are two kinds of fools. One does not learn by observing the errors of others. The worse fool does not learn by observing his own.

Research more than title deep

By DON OAKLEY

Told that the government spent $70,000 to study the body odor of Australian aborigines or $32,000 to find out how seagulls communicate or that his hard-earned tax dollars are supporting a slew of research projects in the nation's universities on such subjects as "Effect of Dry-Chilling on the Flavor of Fried Chicken"—well, the average taxpayer either fires off an irate letter to his congressman or local newspaper or simply throws up his hands in disgust.

There is so much boondoggling in Washington that most people have no doubt that instances such as these, which seem to pop up in the news with regularity, are but the tip of a vast iceberg. And the more odd-sounding the title of the project, the more obvious the boondoggle.

Even journalists share this attitude and sometimes succumb to the temptation to take a cheap shot at the politicians and the eggheads.

Unfortunately, like so many other minor items in the news that command our attention briefly, the follow-up story seldom catches up with the original.

For example, what the National Institutes of Health was investigating was not Australian sweat but how the balance of body fluids of the aborigines in a hot climate compared with the Eskimos'. The object was to determine how U.S. servicemen headed for the Equator could adapt to the heat.

The seagull project was commissioned by the Air Force, which in 1973 lost $24.5 million as a result of bird-aircraft collisions around airports. Biologists at Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Mich., believe they can prevent at least half this loss.

As for that chicken business, this research, conducted at Purdue University, was undertaken in response to a deadline set by the European Common Market. After Jan. 1, 1977, the member countries announced, they will no longer accept poultry that has been cooled in a water bath.

This meant that the U.S. broiler and turkey industries had to come up with a new and satisfactory dry-chill method which retained the quality and taste of the product.

Thus the research at Purdue. At stake was nothing less than the $60-million annual broiler and turkey export business with the Common Market.

Government waste and inefficiency should of course continue to be mercilessly exposed. But at a time when the nation needs its research universities as never before, taxpayers, journalists and professional boondoggle spotters owe it to themselves to do a little research of their own before sniping at those projects with funny-sounding names.

'60s resource had better to be used

During the 1960s, the population bulge caused by the post-World War II "baby boom" increased the number of Americans between ages 14 and 24 by 13.8 million.

Current projections are that the growth in this age group in the decade of the 70s will be only 600,000 and may even decrease in the 1980s.

Just as the burgeoning numbers of youth in the 1960s spurred the expansion and development of the educational community, the sharp decline in their numbers will also create unprecedented challenges and opportunities.

So argues Caryl P. Haskins, former president of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, writing in a special issue of Daedalus magazine devoted to the crisis in higher education. The journal is published by the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

"We have a tremendous resource borne by the tide of those years (the '60s)," he says. "We had better be sure that it is used."

One group that might still benefit from a refocused educational system, he suggests, is "that substantial part of the legion of the 14- to 24-year-old sector, whirled in the currents of the Sixties and most especially Vietnam," that lost its normal opportunities for higher education and has now dispersed into the body of our citizenry.

For them, Haskins envisions an "Open University," with unconventional kinds of accreditation and certification using new technological devices.

Increasing the student-teacher ratio may be another opportunity created by the shifting demographics of higher education.

The number of required teachers should drop through the '70s and '80s. "But," says Haskins, "there are going to be many teachers preparing and maturing and eager to make instruction their life's work during those decades."

Take it from Here

REFLECTIONS— Legislation will be introduced in the 79th General Assembly which will set standards for accomplishments for county supervisors of assessment and if they meet these requirements which relate to equalizing property assessments within townships and counties it will take a three-fourths vote of a county board to relieve them from office.

Conversely, any supervisor of assessments who is not doing a good job according to the requirement to equalize assessment cannot be retained in office unless a county board on a three-fourths vote decides to retain the supervisor.

Bills containing these provisions will be introduced through the efforts of the Joint Subcommittee to Study the Property Tax which is composed of three members from Revenue Committees in each of the two houses of the General Assembly.

The subcommittee has adopted the resolution concerning the retention of supervisors of assessments, according to George Warnecke, staff director.

He explained the proposal at a recent meeting of the Zone 4 Special Committee on Property Tax Reform of the Illinois Association of County Boards which met near Rock Falls.

A supervisor of assessment, under this proposal, will be given a "reasonable period of years," to reach a required equalization between parcels within a township, or a county as measured by the sales ratio studies and other standard established.

The State Property Tax Commission, which the subcommittee recommends be created to administer the state's role in property tax matters, shall notify the supervisor of assessment and the board of the county in which he works of his failure to meet the required standards at least six months prior to the expiration of his contract.

If, after receiving the notice, a majority of the county board and the supervisor decide he should be retained, a public hearing must be held within 30 days on the question of his retention.

The state tax commission shall participate in such a public hearing and present the evidence showing the supervisor has not done a good job and shall inform the hearing the commission will apply multipliers to assessing districts in the county to equalize the assessment if he is retained and shall explain the effect of such action.

In the case of a supervisor of assessments who is doing a good job and a county board which does not wish to renew his contract it must notify the state tax commission of this decision six months before the contract expires.

The board must, 60 days before the contract expires, hold a public hearing concerning his not being retained.

At the public hearing the state commission will participate explaining why the supervisor was judged to be doing a good job and that because of the supervisor's good work the tax jurisdiction has not had a multiplier imposed, but should he be replaced and someone else hired who does not do a good job will result in a multiplier being applied against assessments.

If, after the public hearing the board still wishes not to renew the supervisor's contract, it must vote to do so by a three-fourths margin.

The subcommittee proposes the State Tax Commission be created by removing the property tax function from the Department of Local Government Affairs.

The commission is to be composed of three recognized property tax administrators, serving staggered six-year terms, and must be appointed on a bi-partisan basis by the governor with the advice and consent of the Senate.

The work of the subcommittee gives good evidence the General Assembly considers property tax reform a high priority.

It can be hoped the 79th General Assembly will accomplish what others have not concerning legislating genuine property tax reform.

Watergate coverup still nags

Indiana Republican David W. Dennis, one of Richard Nixon's handful of faithful advocates during the historic deliberations of the House Judiciary Committee last summer, probably expressed the sentiments of millions of Americans when he commented on the just concluded Watergate coverup trial:

"I've never understood why it (the coverup) was done. That's still the great puzzle."

The former Congressman may be counted among the extensive ranks of indirect victims of Watergate. He was defeated for re-election last November, a fate shared by most of the other stubborn-valiant, last-ditch Nixon defenders on the Judiciary Committee.

But Dennis, as he himself will admit, is small potatoes compared to the mighty whose fall was confirmed by a jury verdict in Washington.

Of the four convicted defendants H. R. Haldeman, John D. Ehrlichman, John N. Mitchell and Robert Mardian—the first two were at one time quite easily the first and second most powerful (and despised) men in the United States. Guarding as they did the portals of the presidency, they decreed who should see the President and for how long and on what business.

Indeed, with their influence over an astonishingly indecisive and persuadable Nixon, as revealed in the notorious White House tapes, Haldeman and Ehrlichman—certainly the former—may at times have had more to do with executive branch decision-making than the nation's Chief Executive himself.

In dismissing them 21 months before, President Nixon had called them "two of the finest public servants he had ever known." Even after their conviction and his own disgrace, even then, Nixon could not bring himself to admit wrongdoing on their or his part. Even this small, belated opportunity for nobility proved beyond his grasp.

The puzzle remains: Why the coverup? One can imagine someone like John Kennedy disposing of the problem in an afternoon, possessing as he did the toughness to deliver to the executioner whatever heads had to roll and the political savvy, if not basic honesty, to take his lumps before the people—and in all probability emerging more popular and admired than ever.

Why the crime at all? If anything was unnecessary in 1972, it was fear of the Democrats or plots to sabotage their campaign or attempts to extort millions from corporations. Even today, polls have shown that many Americans would still vote for Richard Nixon over George McGovern.

Arrogance, some will say, small men in elevated positions or a perplexing failure to understand what the American political system is all about. Placing loyalty to a man above loyalty to country. A budding dictatorship, just nipped by a saving piece of tape spotted on a door in the Watergate complex, not to mention being utterly smashed and discredited by tape of a different kind.

Men will be writing about Watergate for as long as they write about the United States, but if the resignation of Richard M. Nixon ended the story as far as most Americans are concerned, the decision of the jury in the coverup trial will be the final chapter in future histories.

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Congressional hearings on high food prices are a sham, little more than a publicity stunt. At least six have been carried out with fanfare these past two years—by the House Agriculture Committee in October 1974; the Senate Select Committee on Small Business in December 1974; the Senate Select Committee on Small Business in December 1973; the House Judiciary Committee in June and July 1973; the Joint Economic Committee, twice in April 1973 and once in December, 1974.

All have come to naught, for one simple reason: The data does not exist to determine which supermarkets and other retailers are overcharging, or if any are. There is no concrete information on whether markups are too great at one or more of the stages in the movement of food from farm to consumer. Are profits exorbitant? Is inefficiency the problem?

We do not have either the necessary statistical data on the effects of competition or of semimonopolies on food prices.

In 84 of 158 metropolitan areas analyzed by the Census Bureau, the four largest grocery retailers control 50 per cent or more of the market. In the absence of relevant research, no one knows whether this concentration of business has tended to keep prices up or hold them down. There are theories, colored by which side of the fence the expert works. There have been no thorough, impartially researched studies.

With these facts in mind, the test of congressional sincerity is simple. If the senators and congressmen involved had really wanted to achieve results for the consumer, they would have written legislation ordering that the requisite data be collected regularly and that there be sustained research on food prices. Two years have passed since this assortment of hearings began. But, so far as can be determined, no serious bills on the subject have been introduced.

Baloney dominates food price hearings

Eight years ago, the National Commission on Food Marketing asked Congress to charge the Federal Trade Commission with a continuing study of structure and competition in the food industries. The Senate and House ignored that recommendation. They continue to ignore it to this day.

"By any reasonable measure," one witness before the Joint Economic Committee of Congress complained, "a country which is into a second year of double-digit food price inflation, should be well aware of how food prices are determined, and of what profits are being made and by whom at each step in the food production and distribution chain. And it should be reaching social, political and economic solutions from that information base instead of still groping for the basic information."

If Congress runs true to form, this absence of data will not prevent the Joint Economic Committee from coming up with a detailed analysis of what is wrong with food prices, supermarkets, the middlemen and anyone else involved.

Typical is the case of a 152-page volume on price stability recently issued by this same body. Rep. Clarence Brown (D-Ohio), expressed the view of many of us when he remarked:

"I realize there has been considerable time pressure . . . Nonetheless, with a report as lengthy and as heavily laden with recommendations, some of them quite controversial, a period of less than one week is hardly adequate time for the committee members to review the report, confer with one another and reach conclusions regarding it in a reasoned and deliberate manner."

We are getting propaganda, not facts.

An analysis

An uncertain Soviet future

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

A world with more than enough to worry about has new reasons to be nervous with the spat of widely varying reports on the health of Leonid I. Brezhnev.

The Soviet Communist party's general secretary may or may not be seriously ill. Soviet officials keep such things closely to themselves. But recent developments have suggested that in any case Brezhnev has been in some sort of political difficulties.

One way or the other, changes relatively soon in the hierarchy are inevitable if only because of its age. Undoubtedly the leaders recognize this and have been preparing for a transition, so perhaps this time it might take place without violent struggle. Thus, the reports fix world attention on the workings of the Soviet power structure.

At the same time the uncertainty turns global attention to the possible impact on such areas as Soviet-American and Soviet-Chinese relations, the Soviet role in the Middle East and Soviet domestic policy.

In some of these areas Brezhnev seemed recently to encounter trouble with his colleagues. That, coupled with an illness, could place his tenure as top man into question.

Brezhnev has been frustrated in the Middle East by a persistent Egyptian mistrust of Soviet intentions. He was set back, too, by the American trade bill that tied preferential treatment for the Soviet Union to eased restrictions on emigration. Since Brezhnev obviously had approved the "understanding" on that score, the vehement denial of it, laid now to "leading Soviet circles," suggests that Brezhnev may have been sharply criticized.

If Brezhnev goes, for whatever reason, what might succeed him? The Communist party rules the nation. The apparatus that runs the party is headed by a 16-member Politburo whose average age is about 65. Its alternate members and the party secretariat also are overaged by comparison with leading groups in the West.

A formidable government bureaucracy of hundreds of thousands, long in office, runs day to day business of the vast nation of 250 million. This Soviet Establishment is so entrenched as to give the impression that it consciously protects its ranks against younger potential invaders.

The government flows from nearly 90 heavily populated ministries. The cabinet of almost four score ministers and state committee chiefs is headed by a premier, one first deputy and 10 deputy premiers. The average age of all these leaders is, astonishingly, something like 63.

Last year, in a sudden burst of genial expansiveness, Brezhnev let it be known that when he wasn't in town, Mikhail M. Suslov presided at Politburo meetings. If both he and Suslov were absent, Andrei P. Kirilenko would preside.

Brezhnev has been a member of a sort of "troika" with Nikolai V. Podgorny, the "president," and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin. Neither of those is a likely candidate to assume the burdens of top party boss. Both are probably close to retirement. Kosygin will be 71 and Podgorny 72 next month.

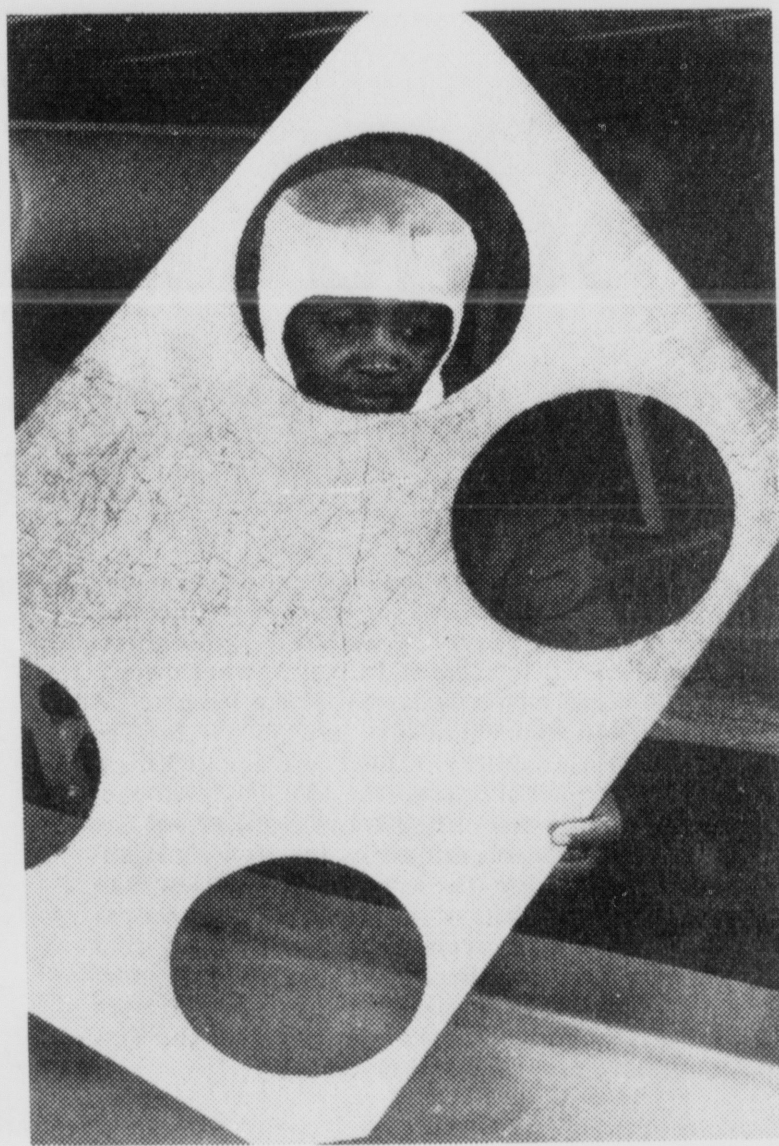

Suslov, a dour ideologist and holdover from the Stalin era Politburo, is now 73. Thus, attention turns to Kirilenko, himself at 68 the same age as Brezhnev.

If Kirilenko should succeed to the top party position, though, it seems likely it would be with far less power and authority than Brezhnev has been enjoying in his recent years.

Kirilenko might, in fact, represent a sort of caretaker, in a collective leadership arrangement to bridge the gap between older and younger generations of leadership. His background would suggest continuity of Brezhnev's policies, perhaps with even a bit more internal repression than Brezhnev meted out.

By education Kirilenko is a technocrat but his background in ideology has suggested dyed-in-the-wool, old-fashioned Stalinism. Also a member of the secretariat that runs the party, Kirilenko is intimately acquainted with its internal affairs, a plus for him.

Behind the better known figures of the Politburo are some others who are possibilities for the top party job. One is Fyodor D. Kulakov, a Politburo youngster at 57, who is also an agricultural expert, a point in his favor.

'Lock-out' program reduces crime rate

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — A year ago the police in this plush desert resort city decided to lock out burglars.

It's working. At a time when inflation is driving everything up, the crime rate here is going down.

Palm Springs is a monied mecca that attracts burglars and hotel thieves.

It's a favorite watering hole for Hollywood celebrities. Such stars as Frank Sinatra and Bob Hope have homes here. It's the playground for the rich and famous. Dwight D. Eisenhower played golf here when he was President. So did former Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

Financed by a $32,000 federal grant, Palm Springs' crime prevention program is deceptively simple.

"It's nothing that's overly new," said Police Chief Robert White. "Last January we started inspecting homes so that we could recommend better security against burglars."

Homeowners are shown how to keep burglars out by such means as dead bolt locks and window guards. In some areas, block captains work with the police to keep people informed.

In order to test the program's effectiveness, police set up two middle-class areas for comparison.

In the White Water Country Club area, every home was inspected personally by a member of the Crime Prevention Bureau. In the Racquet Club area, the homes were not inspected.

Burglaries in the White Water area — which was inspected — dropped 69 per cent in 1974 over 1973. Break-ins went from 23 to just seven.

In the Racquet Club area, burglaries jumped 100 per cent. The area had 54 burglaries last year, compared to 27 in 1973.

Palm Springs' success in bringing down residential and commercial burglaries is attracting attention elsewhere in vast Riverside County. The sheriff's department and police in Banning and Indio are considering adopting the program.

Complete figures for 1974 were not available, but Detective

Bob Alvis said by last October commercial burglaries, including hotel thefts, were down 22 per cent and home burglaries were down 6.5 per cent compared to the similar period in 1973. We recommend a grill for louvered windows."

Alvis said everything in a person's home should be marked with the owner's driver's license number. The police also recommend photographing every room and all paintings and jewelry.

Finally, police give out stickers for windows that read: "All items of value contained within have been marked for ready identification by law enforcement agencies."

Whiteside gets crime funds

CHICAGO (AP) — The Illinois Law Enforcement Commission has awarded $670,000 to eight crime control programs in the last month, officials said today.

The state Department of Corrections received $205,556 to give prison inmates vocational counseling and career training. The Department of Law Enforcement was given $87,500 for a management study of the state police.

In addition to several Chicago agencies, these downstate organizations received funds:

Youth Services, Inc., of McLean County, $45,000, for providing social and clinical services to juvenile delinquents.

McLean County Alcohol and Drug Assistance Unit, Inc., $33,250, for care and treatment of alcohol and drug abusers.

Whiteside County Volunteers in Probation, Inc., $8,500, for training laymen to informally supervise and counsel juveniles on probation.

Coal around the world

With most of the world's attention on oil, the coal industry may be out of the public eye for now but its increasingly important task of providing nations with an alternative source of energy continues. In Wales, where working in the coal mines has been a way of life for generations, a 15-year-old apprentice (at left) heads for the mines at the Oakdale Colliery. A coal refinery in Kingsport, Tenn., (far right) lights up the sky as its smokestacks work round-the-clock. Politics may differ but the job is the same as Western miners at the Donetsk Basin mines in Russia's Ukraine (far left) where workers take five. Returning to the depths of the Welsh mines, an aged miner (below, left) grins from beneath layers of coal dust and grime. Slogging through several feet of snow though it looks like they're shooting the rapids (lower right), miners hitch a ride aboard a transport at the Finley Coal Company compound in Hyden, Ky.

Programs by Mrs. Witte for three club meetings

MRS. THOMAS WITTE

Methodist UMW meeting is Thursday

The mission team of the First United Methodist Church UMW met Monday night with Mrs. William Wolf when reports were given by officers and programs for the year was discussed by Mrs. Wolf and Mrs. Melvin Hartzell.

The first UMW meeting for the new year was announced for 1 p.m. Thursday in the church parlor when the program will feature a film, "Something Besides Rice." The film will depict the theme for the year, "Education for Global Consciousness."

The program will also include special music, and members are asked to bring cancelled commemorative stamps to contribute to activities sponsored by Church Women United.

PEO Chapter meeting with Mrs. Brickley

Mrs. Vernon Brickley, 312 Artesian Place, will entertain Chapter KM, PEO Sisterhood, at 7:45 p.m. Thursday, and will be assisted by Mrs. Richard McCarthy.

The program will feature a travelogue by Miss Harriet Scott and Miss Alice Thomson.

School buses are still unsafe

(Today's column is written by Lew.)

What does it take for a state to seriously improve the safety of school buses?

In Colorado's case, it appears that eight youngsters and one adult had to die in a tragedy in 1971 before officials began to rectify the situation.

Since that tragedy efforts have been made to provide Colorado's children with safe school bus transportation. But evidently one Denver school official believes that criticism of the school-bus industry is no longer in order.

Normal A. Smith, Director of Supporting Services for School District 12, Adams County, Denver, notes that stringent federal regulations governing safety improvements for school buses have been adopted.

What Smith neglects to add is that manufacturers have five years to meet some of those federal standards adopted in 1972. How many children in other states will die in those five years before the enforcement of those safety regulations?

Smith notes that "extensive and objective information" about school bus safety is available from more than 70 different agencies. Those few people who have spent time researching those findings, such as Illinois State Representative Susan Catania, have found that those agencies seldom agree on anything, and all too often, many of them are subjected to outside pressure.

Smith believes "school transportation vehicles presently being manufactured and sold to school districts have maximum practical safety features."

Minimum is more the truth. As the school children in Mississippi who were riding in a school bus with so-called safety glass found out. When they were in a crash, every child had to have glass particles picked from his or her face because the glass wasn't laminated.

Dr. Neal W. McCormick, of the Colorado Department of Education, commends me for my interest in the subject, noting that while "the school bus is still undoubtedly the safest ride that anyone can take, there is still room for improvement." While my research indicates that school bus rides are just as dangerous as automobiles, Dr. McCormick and I agree that improvements can be made. It will cost more money—about two and one half cents a day per pupil, I estimate—but that's not too much.

I'm optimistic about improvements. Of the few Republican legislators to survive the November debacle, one was the above-mentioned Susan Catania from Illinois.

She plans on continuing her efforts to improve school-bus safety and she told me she may be successful this year.

Why? I asked her. Laughing, she said that the strongest opponents of school-bus safety regulations in the Illinois legislature have just been indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of taking money from special interests in exchange for voting for or against certain bills.

April vows for Miss Weber and Mr. Budzinski

MISS CHERYL WEBER

The engagement of Miss Cheryl Weber to Ronald Budzinski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Budzinski, Peoria, is announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Weber, Dixon.

Miss Weber, a 1969 graduate of Dixon High School, received a B. S. degree in interior design at Southern Illinois University in 1973.

Her fiancé graduated from Spaulding High School, Peoria, and earned a bachelor of architecture degree in 1971 at the University of Illinois. Both are presently employed by an architectural firm in Peoria.

An April wedding is being planned by the engaged couple.

DEAR POLLY — My antique white furniture has yellowed. I would like to know how to restore it to its natural beauty.
— MARIE

DEAR MARIE — If you have been waxing your furniture perhaps the yellowing is caused by a buildup of the wax — once or twice a year is sufficient if one feels that waxing is necessary. Daily dusting should do the job. If it is a wax buildup this could be removed (synthetic turpentine is a suggested remover) but this is a tricky job. I would only try a small inconspicuous spot first. Perhaps some reader who has antique white furniture and has solved this problem will share her experience with us. — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve concerns boxed cereal. As a diabetic I cannot have sugar or honey. Among the many cereals that line the grocer's shelves I have only found three that do not contain this sweetener. With the high price of sugar it seems omitting some would be a great saving to the makers. I know I am not the only one in this plight. — MRS. A. F. K.

DEAR POLLY — Do tell Jane who wants to clean her wooden exercise sandals that I first wash mine with soap and water, dry them and then use a wood paneling cleaner. This gives the wood a real shine. — FAYE.

DEAR POLLY — A shoe repair man suggests trying a gum eraser to remove the dirt or a commercial spray that cleans and shines wood. Several readers suggested that two or three coats of furniture polish after cleaning will restore a luster and shine to the wood. — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — When the gift wrapping is all finished roll all leftover paper small enough to fit INSIDE one of the long cardboard tubes it came rolled on. Roll the different colors of leftover ribbon around the outside of the tube and fasten the ends securely with cellophane tape. — MARY O.

DEAR POLLY — I read Mary Ann's Pointer about her children making a "bead" curtain with plastic medicine vials. I do want to compliment them and all the others who are so ingenious and creative. Hats off to those parents who encourage their children to do such things. This is a Pet Please and I would enjoy reading letters from others concerning the things that please them — sort of a counter-balance to their Peaves. — SUE.

SKILLET FISH
A good way to cut calories and economical.

1 pound package frozen gray sole or similar fish fillets
Medium onion, diced
Medium carrot, diced
2 large ribs celery, diced
1-3rd to 1/2 cup dry white wine
1/2 cup frozen green peas
Salt and pepper to taste
Thaw the fish enough to cut crosswise, without separating the fillets, into 3 pieces. Into an 8-inch skillet turn the onion, carrot, celery and wine; cover, simmer until partly tender. Add the fish; cover and cook about 6 minutes; turn the fish and add the peas and salt and pepper; continue simmering until fish and vegetables are cooked through — about 6 minutes longer. May be served in wide-rim soup plates with French bread for dunking into the juices. Makes 3 servings.

Dear Ann

by Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a teenager — one of several kids. Our father is an alcoholic. I can't tell him how I feel, so I wrote it down. I hope you will print my thoughts. My father reads your column every day. It might help him and other fathers who are alcoholics. Thanks, Ann.

ALCOHOLISM
I've been watching him die since I was old enough to understand.

His death is slow and painful; Not only painful for him, but for his wife and family.

I think dying slow is much worse than dying suddenly. I don't understand why he does it.

Why would a person want to die before he has to? I know it isn't because he doesn't love us.

We have our little disagreements, but doesn't everyone? And I know for sure that he loves my mother. Of course, they argue, but doesn't every married couple? I don't hold it against him. He's sick.

We love him so very much! It's killing us watching him die.

Please STOP drinking, Dad.

—Love, Your Family

Dear Family: Here it is. And for those of you who wonder if that letter was written by YOUR teenager, the answer is — "it could be."

If you want to give yourself and your family the best gift in the world, one that won't cost a dime, I suggest that you look in the phone book, call Alcoholics Anonymous and attend their next meeting.

Dear Ann Landers: Our daughter is being married next month. I should preface my remarks by telling you that we are people of means and not in need of anything — especially do we not need to have friends and relatives help us out by buying "useful" gifts.

This morning a gift arrived from a very close friend. It was beautifully wrapped by one of the city's finest jewelry stores. Inside was a slip that said "Sender's Own." I didn't need to read the slip. I knew it was an old appliance that had been put in the broom closet for a few years. Honestly, I was so mortified I didn't know what to say. Of course we won't display that gift with the others. It would be a dirty trick to the woman who sent it — although it would serve her right.

When HER son was married we sent a lovely silver tray. Should I let her know how I feel when next we meet? Or should I boil in silence and build an ulcer? — Plain Mad

Dear Mad: An old appliance isn't worth an ulcer. You vented a lot of anger by writing to me. Now forget it. Perhaps by the time this letter appears in the paper you will be able to see the humor in the situation and laugh it off. I hope so.

Confidential to Inferiority Complex? Maybe, but my guess is that the guy IS inferior. He's pulled some awfully shoddy stunts. Drop him.

MR. AND MRS. T. L. WHITNEY

60th anniversary for Oregon couple

OREGON — Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Whitney observed their 60th wedding anniversary Sunday, and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bahr at a dinner in Maxson Manor.

Mr. Whitney and the former Miss Madge Bear were married Jan. 5, 1915 in St. Mary's Catholic Church, Oregon.

The honorees' anniversary was also celebrated during the recent holidays when they were honored at a dinner in the Silo Restaurant hosted by their children, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Lane and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sassaman; their six grandchildren and their 11 great-grandchildren. The grandchildren presented the Whitneys a nosegay and a boutonniere with $60 enclosed.

Members of the Whitneys' family traveled from Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana to attend the anniversary celebration.

Dept. of second thoughts

By Oswald & James Jacoby

We are indebted to Paul Lukacs and Bridge World magazine for today's hand. If you can keep your eyes off the East-West cards, try to plan your play at six spades.

Your first thought: Win the heart lead with dummy's ace and try an immediate first-round diamond finesse. If it wins you are home, provided trumps don't break 5-0, but you can't handle five trumps in one hand with any line of play.

If it loses and trumps break 4-1 or a diamond is led right back and ruffed you're going down. A second thought may be better. Ruff the heart and start trumps. If West holds four trumps, cash your ace and king of clubs and throw him in with his last trump. Anything he leads gives you your contract.

If it turns out that East holds the four trumps, you still cash your ace and king of clubs. Now your best play is to also cash the ace and king of diamonds, then throw East in.

This will cost you your contract if East started with the unguarded queen of diamonds, but since East is long in spades he's likely to be short in diamonds.

So you cash your high diamonds, throw East in and make your contract, since East has to put you in dummy with a club or heart.

Hoosiers rated No. 1 in poll

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

Boyish-faced Bobby Knight, the fiery competitor who made aggressive nose-to-nose defense his coaching trademark, has guided Indiana to the top of the college basketball world.

The unbeaten Hoosiers, who won their 13th game of the season Monday night, are ranked No. 1 in this week's Associated Press college basketball poll, announced today.

It marks the culmination of an effort begun four years ago by Knight, when he left the head coaching job at Army to take the post at Indiana.

The Hoosiers, rated No. 2 last week, took over the top rung on the ladder from defending national champion North Carolina State, which was upset by Wake Forest 83-78 Friday night. Indiana received 36 first-place votes and a total of 1,020 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters. Second was undefeated UCLA, which drew 14 top votes and 988 points. Louisville, another unbeaten club, received the remaining two first-place votes and 776 points, good for third place over N.C. State, which got 762 points.

Each of the three unbeaten climbed one notch from last week. Balloting is based on games played through last Saturday, and at that time Indiana

The Top Twenty, with first-place votes in parentheses, season records and total points. Points tabulated on basis of 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8-etc.

Three Celtics added to Star Team

NEW YORK (AP)—Three Boston Celtics—center Dave Cowens, forward Paul Silas and guard Jo Jo White—were added today to the Eastern Conference team for the 25th National Basketball Association All-Star Game at Phoenix Jan. 14.

The naming of the trio of Celtics' reserves—plus the previous selection, in fan balloting, of forward John Huvlicek as a starter—will give one team four players in the game for the first time since 1962. That year, both Boston and Los Angeles had four members in the All-Star Game, the Celtics with Bill Russell, Bob Cousy, Sam Jones and Tom Heinsohn, and the Lakers with Elgin Baylor, Jerry West, Frank Revy and Rudy LaRusso.

Joining Cowens, Silas and White among the East's reserves for the year's game will be center Wes Unseld and guard Phil Chenier of the Washington Bullets, and forwards Rudy Tomjanovich of the Houston Rockets and Steve Mix of the Philadelphia 76ers.

All were selected by consensus of the nine Eastern Conference coaches.

The Western Conference reserves, as chosen by the nine

West coaches, were center Bob Lanier and guard Dave Bing of the Detroit Pistons, forward Bob Dandridge and guard Jim Price of the Milwaukee Bucks, forward Sidney Wicks of the Portland Trail Blazers, center Sam Lacey of the Kansas City-Omaha Kings and guard Charlie Scott of the Phoenix Suns.

'Eggplant' image halts recruitment

By JERRY SHEEHAN
PARIS—(NEA)—Parisians have learned that it takes more than regulations and master plans to solve their chronic and worsening traffic problem. It gets down to psychology, too. American-style parking meters are among the newer weapons in the fight to prevent Paris from turning into a giant used-car lot. The meters seem to bring order out of chaos and they certainly bring money into the treasury.

The problem is that it is almost impossible to recruit meter maids, without whose firm hand and ball-point pen to enforce traffic regulations, no Frenchman is likely to invest a franc for a half hour of car space.

Since July, the city government has been trying to hire an additional 200 meter maids to bring the total force to 920, thus permitting expansion of the meters to the Left Bank. It is estimated that the meter maids that of any airline hostess. Its color is wine. Bordeaux one might say. More accurately, it is the shade of an eggplant. And the wearers are referred to universally and irreverently as the "Aubergines" — the "eggplants."

It seems that few Paris women appreciate being called by the name of that plump vegetable and this appears to be the only explanation for the sluggish recruitment, even as national unemployment figures appear headed for the million mark.

As bad as the situation is and as frustrated as they are, city officials count themselves lucky that an earlier nickname for the eggplants failed to take hold. When the corps was first organized, Parisians referred to them as "the red ants."

It is unlikely that their official designation will ever become popularized — "contractual lady affecting the surveillance of parking meters."

THE NOW LOOK WAS THEN in Japan, where platform soles have been in for centuries. Called "pikkuri" and worn with formal kimono, the traditional elevated footwear is hollow and often decorated with small bells to add a tinkle to lady's walk. Practical purpose is to prevent finery from dragging in the street.

could bring in $12 million in 1975 in parking penalties. Of the 200 sought, only 13 women have signed on.

As public service jobs go in this country, that of a Paris meter maid is better than many. The pay is $90 a week, part-time work is permitted and you are not tied to a desk or factory work bench.

When the meter maids were first formed three years ago, the prefecture required a certificate of good morality. Now they simply accept anyone who has not been in prison.

Another advantage, the uniform is supplied free. And perhaps that is where the trouble lies — the uniform, or, more precisely, its color.

The design of the tunic, skirt or slacks and cap is as smart as

Today in History

By The Associated Press
Today is Wednesday, January eighth, the eighth day of 1975. There are 357 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: In 1815, U.S. forces under General Andrew Jackson defeated the British in the Battle of New Orleans. The battle was the closing engagement in the War of 1812.

On this date — In 1642, the Italian astronomer, Galileo, died.

In 1679, the French explorer, La Salle, reached Niagara Falls.

In 1918, President Woodrow Wilson outlined 14 points for peace after World War One.

In 1923, France began the military occupation of the Ruhr Valley in Germany.

In 1959, Premier Charles de

Gaulle became President of France.

In 1971, the United States apologized for a bomb explosion outside a Soviet cultural building in Washington.

Ten years ago: The Star of India sapphire and 23 other gems stolen from the American Museum of Natural History were returned to New York after being recovered from a bus station locker in Miami.

Five years ago: The United States and Mainland China agreed to resume diplomatic talks in Warsaw after a lapse of two years.

One year ago: Communist-led insurgents in Cambodia intensified their pressure on Phnom Penh with strikes north and south of the capital.

Lottery amendments to bring in $10 million

CHICAGO (AP) — A law newly signed by President Ford will generate an estimated $10 million more a year for the state, the head of the Illinois lottery says.

The law, lottery Supt. Ralph F. Batch told a news conference Monday, allows radio and television stations to broadcast winning lottery ticket numbers. Previously such announcements were banned from the air.

Batch also said the law opens the way for live broadcasts of lottery drawings.

Another major provision of the law signed Friday permits lotteries to use the mail for sending tickets to in-state points, Batch said. He said it would cut administrative costs.

With the mail moratorium lifted, Batch said, the state will begin a program in which residents can subscribe for tickets through the mail.

He also said the new law would reduce the number of prizes that go unclaimed. About 10 per cent of the prizes, are not claimed he said.

Four killed in plane crash

BENTON HARBOR, Mich. (AP) — A single-engine plane, owned by Andrews University in Berrien Springs, crashed in heavy fog early today, killing all four persons aboard.

Berrien County authorities said the crash victims were the male pilot and three women, but their identities weren't released immediately.

The crash occurred about midway between Niles and Watervliet on the east edge of Berrien County.

A spokesman for the school, which is owned and operated by the Seventh-day Adventist Church, said the plane was rented from the school by a private party.

He said the Cherokee 180 departed from the school airfield this morning, but its destination was unknown to school officials.

The spokesman said the pilot was not employed by the school, although the university is checking the possibility the three female passengers may have been students.

Deputy Gary Ruhl said the wrecked plane was found about 5 a.m. about two miles east of Michigan 140 near Meadowbrook Road.

No further details were available immediately.

All in the Family takes first in TV ratings

NEW YORK (AP) — CBS' consistently top-rated "All in the Family" series was the nation's most-watched television show last week, followed by NBC's "Sanford and Son," according to A.C. Nielsen Co. ratings.

The ratings, made public Tuesday, showed the nation's 20 most popular evening programs for the week of Dec. 30-Jan. 5 in this order: "All in the Family" (CBS); "Sanford and Son" (NBC); "The Waltons" (CBS); "The Orange Bowl Game" and "Police Woman" (both NBC); "Maude" (CBS); "Chico and the Man" (NBC); "Mary Tyler Moore" (CBS); "Good Times" and "Rhoda" (all CBS); "Bob Newhart" (CBS); "Rockford Files" (NBC); "M-A-S-H" (CBS); "Emergency" (NBC); "Kojak," "Carol Burnett," "Medical Center" and "Mannix" (all CBS); "NBC Saturday Movie" and "The Rookies" (ABC).

1854 Indian treaty leads to federal court battle

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Two state agencies plan to go into court to challenge a federal judge's ruling allowing 19 Indian tribes in Western Washington to harvest up to 50 per cent of the state's commercial salmon catch.

The state departments of Game and Fisheries prepared to challenge the decision by U.S. District Court Judge George H. Boldt before the 9th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

The judge said the wording of Indian treaties signed in 1854 and 1855 implied Indians and non-Indians should get an equal share of the fish harvest.

Non-Indian gillnetters complained when Boldt directed the state Department of Fisheries to cut back the fishing seasons to assure Indians of obtaining half of the harvest.

Unemployment 'not new' to American Indians

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — "Indians have always known hard times. Others talk about 7.1 per cent unemployment. Indians, for the most part, have known no employment," says Wendell Chino, Chino, tribal chairman of the Mescalero Apaches, made the comments Tuesday in opening the third annual National Tribal Chairmen's Association convention. The Mescalero Apache chairman urged that the conference be used as a vehicle to push for a new national policy that would allow Indians to control their own destiny. "As American Indians, we have been grossly wronged and hurt. Other people have been telling us what is good for us. Let us make America believe that the American Indian is the final arbiter of his own future."

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (AP) — Ezell Hodge Jr., 24, escaped serious injury in a shooting incident with two robbers. He has his dentures to thank for the good fortune.

Police said a .32-caliber bullet was deflected by his upper and lower plates Tuesday after he was shot in the mouth at point-blank range during a robbery at his home.

"The tall one grabbed the front of my shirt and shot me," Hodge recalled. "I thought it was all over."

Police said the bullet shattered six front teeth on the upper and lower plates, then deflected.

Hodge was hospitalized for oral surgery.

CHICAGO (AP) — Twice as many gas bills were unpaid in 1974 as were in 1973, says a spokesman for the Northern Illinois Gas Co.

Credit Director Richard Kolmar said in an interview Tuesday that in the 35 Illinois counties outside Chicago served by the company, 18,600 delinquencies were recorded in 1974 as compared to 9,400 a year earlier.

"We're having difficulties collecting because of unemployment, layoffs and inflationary patterns," Kolmar said. "People have less spending money with which to pay their bills."

The company, which is the fifth largest of its kind in the nation, has suffered net losses totaling $1 million as a result, Kolmar said.

Meanwhile, a Peoples Gas spokesman said in Chicago that the economy has not had an impact on payment of bills to his company.

The company shut off service to 35,231 delinquent customers during an 11-month period ending Nov. 30, he said. That number was 620 fewer than the previous year.

The delinquencies and cutoffs were "evenly spread through welfare customers to the Gold Coast," the spokesman added.

William Smith
A memorial service will be held at the First Christian Church Saturday at 1:30 p.m. for William "Bill" Smith, 59, 1013 N. Dement, who was drowned in Wisconsin on Dec. 21.

Smith was born in Chicago on Jan. 27, 1915. He married the former Evelyn Schumacher on Dec. 9, 1939. Smith was a supervisor at the Borg-Warner plant from its opening 13 years ago. He was a charter member and past president of the Dixon Evening Lions Club.

He was preceded in death by a granddaughter.

Survivors include his widow; a daughter, Mrs. Richard (Nancy) Humphrey; his mother, Mrs. Pauline Maronde, and four grandchildren, all of Dixon.

Burial services will be held when the body is recovered. A memorial has been established.

Western states socked by snow

By The Associated Press
Wind, rain and heavy snow spread over much of the western half of the nation today as a pair of winter storms churned eastward from the Pacific Northwest to the Great Lakes.

Thirteen inches of snow piled into Huron, S.D.; 8 inches blanketed Spokane, Wash.; 7 inches hit Watertown, S.D., and 6-inch falls were common elsewhere in the northern Plains and Northwest interior.

Travel advisories were in effect for most of the country from Washington and Oregon to Minnesota. Gale warnings flew along the West Coast from central California through Washington. A winter storm watch was out for the central portion of the Great Basin.

Freezing rain glazed a narrow band from eastern Iowa into southern Wisconsin. Rain fell over much of the coastal Far West, the Midwest, the southern Plains and the Gulf Coast states. Nearly 2 inches of rain drenched Baton Rouge, La. One-inch soakings were common in parts of Mississippi. Clear skies were scarce, confined mostly to the Eastern Seaboard.

Unseasonably mild weather held temperatures in the 30s and 40s overnight through a large part of the midcontinent. The 50s reached north to the Ohio Valley and middle Mississippi Valley.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from -2 at Gunnison, Colo., to 77 at Key West, Fla.

Some other reports: Anchorage -14 clear, Atlanta 46 cloudy, Boston 36 clear, Buffalo 35 cloudy, Chicago 44 rain, Cincinnati 48 cloudy, Dallas 57 mostly cloudy, Detroit 38 rain, Honolulu 71 mostly clear, Indianapolis 48 cloudy, Kansas City 32 cloudy, Los Angeles 55 cloudy, Louisville 52 cloudy, Miami 72 mostly clear, Minneapolis-St. Paul 24 snow, Nashville 56 cloudy, New York 37 clear, Philadelphia 33 clear, Pittsburgh 36 clear, St. Louis 54 mostly cloudy, San Francisco 54 rain, Seattle 44 cloudy, Washington 37 clear.

CAB approves fare extension

WASHINGTON (AP) — Air fares on North Atlantic routes between the United States and Europe and Africa will remain at their present level through March 31 as international carriers continue considering new fee schedules.

An agreement extending air fares at the current level was approved Tuesday by the Civil Aeronautics Board. The current fares were due to expire Jan. 31, but the board said international airlines have not been able to agree on what the new fares should be.

International fares are decided by the airlines, but are subject to approval by the CAB and regulatory agencies of other countries.

Meanwhile, a CAB administrative judge ruled that all discount air fares in the Hawaiian Islands and the continental United States market except military, children, infants and airline employees fares were unlawful and should be canceled effective June 30, 1976. The main discount fare now used is the Group Inclusive Tour fare, a CAB spokesman said.

Judge Robert M. Johnson also ruled that first-class air fares between the continental United States and Hawaii should be priced at 188 per cent of second-class fares instead of the current 150 per cent.

His rulings will become final in 30 days unless appealed by the airlines or the full CAB decides to review the matter on its own.

Singer Helen Reddy is 'worst dressed'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Singer Helen Reddy heads the list of 10 worst dressed women of 1974.

Mr. Blackwell, the designer who has been making the selections annually for 15 years, also unveiled Tuesday his list of the 10 best dressed women of the year.

"When I think someone looks rotten, it doesn't mean they don't have a good soul or that they aren't great entertainers," the designer said of his choice of Miss Reddy for the dubious distinction.

Mr. Blackwell picked actress Elizabeth Taylor as the worst of the worst dressed in the 15 years he has been making his selections public.

Freeport man is ticketed in crash

OREGON — An accident this morning at the Junction of Ill. 72 and Mt. Morris Rd., north of Mt. Morris, resulted in the arrest of a Freeport man.

John H. Williams, 25, was northbound on Mt. Morris Road, and as he reached the intersection, he lost control of his car, police said. He spun around in the middle of Ill. 72, skidded off the road and into a parking lot, striking two cars owned by Steven D. Coachmeier, Leaf River.

Damage to the Coachmeier vehicles was estimated at $400 each and $200 damage was done to the Williams car.

Williams was charged by Ogle County Sheriff's Police with driving too fast for conditions.

Democrats split in House leadership battle

But it became evident thereafter that a "Stop Choate" movement was under way.

Matijevich, one of the early candidates in the race, accused Choate of being "slippery and slick ... a wheeler and dealer."

The Walker aides worked behind the scenes until the governor issued his only public statement on the race Tuesday. He was critical of Choate's "way of doing business."

This was an apparent reference to complaints during the past several years that Choate was drafting key legislation in backroom meetings with other leaders, then presenting it to other members on a take-it-or-leave-it basis during the last-minute flurry of activity preceding adjournment.

The same complaint was raised against outgoing House Speaker W. Robert Blair, R-Park Forest.

Seveal downstate legislators and Democratic county chairmen said they had been threatened with loss of patronage jobs by Walker aides should they vote for Choate.

The candidate Walker aides were pushing was Gerald Bradley of Bloomington, who got 11 votes Tuesday night.

The other votegetters were Rolland Tipword of Taylorville, with seven, Harold Washington of Chicago with four, and John Matijevich of North Chicago with two.

Three legislators declined to vote for any of the candidates, and two didn't attend the caucus.

Choate, the Democratic leader of the House since 1971, became the prime candidate for speaker when voters cast droves of Republicans out of office in the November election and gave Democrats the majority in the House.

But his aides at the same time were telling all who would listen that Choate was unacceptable to the governor. They said Choate cannot be trusted in political matters and attacked his associations with the late Secretary of State Paul Powell and racing interests.

Majority of those who vote on the issue to win.

If all members vote, Choate will need 30 votes in addition to those he received in Tuesday's caucus.

"I'm not going to bed very early," Choate said when asked of his plans to sway those votes.

"It's an extremely fluid situation, but I'm gratified at the strong support on only one ballot," he said.

In recent weeks, Walker consistently contended he would leave selection of the speaker to the legislature — a hands-off policy.

But his aides at the same time were telling all who would listen that Choate was unacceptable to the governor. They said Choate cannot be trusted in political matters and attacked his associations with the late Secretary of State Paul Powell and racing interests.

Unless House rules are changed before the voting begins on the speaker race, Choate will need the votes of a speaker if they can unite behind a single candidate.

Gov. Daniel Walker stated publicly for the first time earlier Tuesday that he opposed Choate. He said he met with Daley and asked the mayor not to order his Chicago legislative loyalists to support Choate.

A spokesman for the governor said the size of Choate's vote meant the Anna Democrat had been stopped in his drive for speaker.

"A number of legislators would have gotten on the train if they saw it was moving. But that train isn't moving anywhere," said Norton Kay, Walker's press secretary.

Choate conceded he would not win a the speakership on the first ballot.

Bicentennial officials worried about transportation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials are showing increasing concern over how visitors during the bicentennial year 1976 will get to the site of many of Washington's major attractions. The National Capital Park Service announced Tuesday that it will go ahead at once with plans for free parking at Robert F. Kennedy Stadium, some 20 city blocks east of the Capitol, with shuttle bus service to the national Mall.

This will coincide with the elimination of 600 parking spaces on the Mall, which runs between the Capitol and the Lincoln Memorial. The Mall is the site of many of Washington's major attractions, including several Smithsonian Institution buildings, the National Gallery of Art and the Washington Monument. This is part of a $3.5 million project to make the Mall a pedestrian-oriented parkland, with all autos banned by 1976. Washington normally entertains 16 million visitors a year, and an additional 9 million are expected in 1976 — "super-imposed upon transit, parking and lodging facilities that are already inadequate," Smithsonian Secretary S. Dillon Ripley has said. Ripley favors the conversion of the Mall, but has advocated alternate parking in open areas nearer to it than the stadium. He wrote in the current issue of the magazine Smithsonian: "A year hence I can visualize the doors of Smithsonian buildings swinging open on a July day with no one coming in. Way off in the distance a solid traffic jam ten miles long will have blocked all peripheral roadways ...

"Thus the summer of '76 will pass with confusion rampant and shattered nerves galore. Perhaps it's only a nightmare. I wonder."

Undersecretary of the Interior Nathaniel P. Reed and Director Jack Fish of the Park Service defended Tuesday the decision to eliminate half the parking space on the Mall. "We're never going to solve the parking situation in this city with or without the 600 spaces on the Mall," Reed said. "They would be hopelessly inadequate to handle the more than 20 million visitors."

Reed and Fish said the shuttle bus service will be monitored closely during 1975, the term of the contract, to see whether it is the solution to the parking woes of tourists. Other fringe parking areas are under consideration, including one at the Pentagon.

Shuttle buses will be free to those who buy tickets on Tourmobiles, which now circle the Mall area between the Capitol and Arlington National Cemetery. A $2.50 daily ticket allows the purchaser to get on and off these buses at any of 11 spots as often as he wishes.

People in the news

NEW YORK (AP) — Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis has written an anonymous article for the New Yorker magazine about the new International Center for Photography here. "We treated it like any other contribution," said editor-in-chief William Shawn. "She has a right to contribute if she wants to. We paid her the same rate as our other contributors."

He would say only that the pay was "in the hundreds."

The 1,500-word article describes a visit Mrs. Onassis made to the center on its opening day.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Philippe Petit, the French circus acrobat who walked a wire last summer between the 1,350-foot towers of New York's World Trade Center, is hospitalized here after falling about 30 feet to a concrete floor.

He was listed in guarded condition.

The 25-year-old Petit underwent surgery Tuesday for possible internal injuries after the fall during a rehearsal.

Petit was preparing for a performance later in the evening at Bayfront Auditorium of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey Circus.

School board looks into remodeling of Amboy Junior H.S.

AMBOY — A review of proposed remodeling of the junior high school building was made by the representative of an architectural firm at a special meeting of the Board of Education, held in the high school Tuesday night.

John Foster of Berger-Kelley and Associates, the architectural firm employed by the board to plan the remodeling of the building, went over proposed renovation details step by step to determine if costs could be pared.

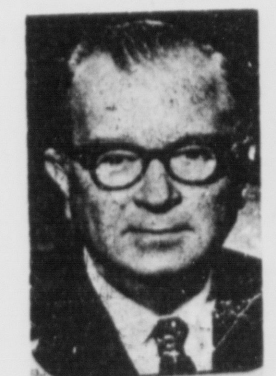

He outlined repairs and improvements which were necessary in various areas of the building to meet fire and safety codes, the renovation necessary to repair damage to the building, the repairing of the roof, new ceilings, new windows in the old part of the building, and new equipment.

In each instance, Foster evaluated the proposed improvement and classified it whether it was necessary for fire and safety code, or to renovate and replace worn-out materials, giving options available. Some items covered in the original proposal were deleted entirely.

In the modified proposal, the remodeling would be new and smaller windows, lowered ceilings, improvement of lighting and all electrical wiring where needed, renovation of plumbing and toilet and shower rooms, remodeling of present library-study hall area into a media center which would include the installation of ramps to accommodate wheelchair students, and updating heating system.

Foster estimated the cost to be about $700,000. He stated that it would take at least four months for his firm to complete drawings and working plan to be offered for bids and bidding period would take another 30 days.

Board members were presented with work sheets with details of each step in the remodeling, and options available in each instance. These will be studied and will be discussed at a special meeting of the board on Feb. 4.

MOSTLY For MEN by CHUCK FLYNN

If your appetite is jaded from holiday eating, here are two light and tasty shrimp recipes which will help to restore a zest for food.

Shrimp ramekins is the recipe of Mrs. Grover C. Moss (718 E. Fellows), Dixon, Ill., who uses it with a cocktail before a multi-course dinner. The dish also may be used as the principal course for a light Sunday supper or luncheon.

To serve 6, you'll need 1 1/2 pounds uncooked, peeled and deveined shrimp. Melt 1/4 pound butter (or margarine) in a skillet, add shrimp and saute for 2 minutes. Add 8 ounces of sliced mushrooms and continue to cook over medium heat for 6 minutes, stirring frequently. Reserve.

Beat 4 ounces cream cheese until light and place in a second skillet. Gradually add 1 cup dairy sour cream and bring to boiling point. Now add 2 teaspoons salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 teaspoon paprika, and 2 teaspoons chopped parsley.

Combine cheese mixture with shrimp and mushrooms, mixing well. Divide among 6 individual buttered ramekins or shells and sprinkle with parmesan cheese (1/4 cup in all). Place under broiler until delicately browned.

The ramekins may be made in advance and frozen. If still frozen when ready to use, brown in a 400 degree oven rather than broiling.

Shrimp party salad is an excellent luncheon dish which is the creation of Mrs. Virginia Wenthe (21 Briarcliff), St. Louis, Mo. Soften 2 tablespoons plain gelatin in 3/4 cup cold water. Dissolve gelatin over hot water, then place in blender container.

Add 1 1/2 cups water, 1/4 cup sugar, 6 tablespoons lemon juice, 3/4 teaspoon salt, 1 cup mayonnaise. Blend a few seconds and turn a little of the mixture into a ring mold to form a thin jellied layer. Chill until firm.

Meanwhile add to the blender mixture 1 cup cooked shrimp, 1 cup diced celery, 1 slice of onion, 1/4 cup chopped parsley, and 1 pimiento. Blend until ingredients are chopped fairly fine. Turn into mold on top of jellied layer and chill until firm.

Unmold on platter and garnish with greens, whole cooked shrimp and pimiento strips. Top with mayonnaise which has been mixed with a little lemon juice and serve to 6.

ROCHELLE — Two objector's petitions will be heard by the Electoral Board of Rochelle Thursday at 2 and 3 p.m. The first to be considered will be that of Thomas K. Smith, a candidate for the post of Street Commissioner in the February election against M. Page Weeks, also a candidate for the same office.

Smith filed his objection with City Clerk John T. Havens Jan. 2, stating that Weeks signed and had his petition notarized and that he had obtained all the signatures in his presence and this is found to be false.

The second objector's petition was filed with the Rochelle City Clerk on Jan. 3 by five Rochelle citizens, stating as their reason for objecting to the candidacy of Thomas K. Smith that he is the son of Howard K. Smith, Rochelle building inspector, and such relationship, should young Smith be elected, would be a conflict of interest. This hearing will be held at 3 p.m.

Both hearings will be held at the Ogle County Board of Supervisors Room at the Ogle County Courthouse.

Walker to address outgoing General Assembly

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The 1975-76 General Assembly convenes for its first session today facing leadership battles that may fracture the ranks of the Democratic majority.

The most potentially divisive race is expected in the House where Rep. Clyde Choate, D-Anna, will attempt to collect enough Democratic votes to be elected speaker.

However a final session of the outgoing 1973-74 General Assembly was scheduled to receive messages promised by Gov. Daniel Walker.

Although the governor did not specify what the messages might contain, lawmakers hoped that he might act on any of the several bills still on his desk.

Among the measures is a tax-relief program for senior citizens and bills raising the salaries of legislators, judges and high-ranking officials in the Walker administration.

Those bills were not passed by the General Assembly until December, and Walker has until February to act on them. Constitutional experts have said that if Walker vetoes any of the measures after the 1973-74 General Assembly has adjourned, the 1975-76 Assembly cannot vote to pass them over his veto.

A quiet campaign by aides of Walker to block Choate's election as speaker broke into the open Tuesday when Walker announced publicly that he opposes Choate.

The Democrats hold a 101-76 edge in the House, but Choate, the colorful current Democratic leader, received only 59 votes in a closed party meeting Tuesday night. The remaining votes were scattered among five other candidates.

A majority of those members of the House present and voting is needed to elect a speaker.

Sen. Cecil A. Pardee, D-Chicago, was the leading contender for Senate president, although 10 party members refused to endorse him as their leader at a caucus last month. Pardee has been serving as Democratic leader in the Senate for the past four years.

Democrats have a 34-25 majority in the Senate, with 30 votes needed to elect a president. Thus the 10 opposed to Pardee could block his selection, but probably could not come up with a candidate of their own acceptable to the others.

Republicans in the House earlier chose James R. Washburn of Morris as their leader and GOP senators picked William C. Harris of Pontiac. Washburn was chairman of the House Appropriations Committee in the 1973-74 General Assembly and Harris was Senate president.

Bulletin

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Gov. Daniel Walker approved bills raising the salaries of state legislators, judges and top officials in his administration, Senate President William Harris said today.

Harris' announcement came on the Senate floor hours before the scheduled adjournment of 1973-74 General Assembly and the beginning of the 1975-76 legislature.

The governor's office declined immediate comment.

One of the bills would give legislators a $2,500-a-year raise, boosting their pay to $20,000.

plans to submit an extensive legislative program to the General Assembly this year.

He has said this package will include bills seeking stronger campaign ethics legislation, increased consumer protection, a complete rewriting of the state's mental health code and new laws to guarantee and protect rights to privacy.

The uncertain state of the economy is expected to affect much of the legislation introduced in the next two years.

The state Chamber of Commerce and state Comptroller George Lindberg both have predicted a tax increase will be necessary in fiscal 1976 if spending is not cut.

Walker already has announced a freeze on hiring state employees for most jobs in agencies under his control and has said he will lay off workers if necessary to avoid a tax increase.

Nelson board ponders hike in refuse service

NELSON — A $70 increase in garbage pickup rates was discussed at the regular meeting of the Nelson Village Board Tuesday night.

A letter from the Rock Valley Disposal service informed the board of the rate increase to $225 per month for the village. The two-year contract for garbage collection includes a free spring pickup.

Board members voted to purchase a calculator for the village treasurer, William Weber. The price of the calculator is not to exceed $50.

The board approved the purchase of a .357 Magnum-Smith and Wesson revolver for Police Chief Elmer Collins. The cost of the new gun is $151.

Sealed bids will be accepted for the old gun, a .38-caliber Colt. The gun can be examined at the police chief's home. The bids will be opened at the next village board meeting.

The board announced vehicle stamps are on sale at the village clerk's office. Senior citizens are not required to have a vehicle stamp.

In other action the board decided fines will be given to persons who allow their dogs to run loose in the village. Residents who see loose dogs and know the owners are asked to contact the police chief.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE C-645: Dr. Zee, aged 47, is a leading G-U surgeon in a large Midwestern city.

We attended our 7 a.m. state caucus breakfast at the recent AMA convention in Chicago.

Although we had never met in person on any previous occasion, he said:

"Dr. Crane, I feel like I know you well, because of your daily 'Worry Clinic' column in our newspaper."

"And I wish to commend you on the widespread public service that you render."

"To be specific, as you can easily realize, many of my patients have urinary and sexual problems."

"Often they are feuding with their mates and actually ready to file suit for divorce."

"Yet I know such action could easily be averted if they just had a better understanding of the proper boudoir behavior."

"However, as a busy surgeon, I can't take an hour to tutor such couples and explain fully your famous 'boudoir cheesecake' recipe."

"For they'd become incensed

if I thus charged them a fee of $100 for that hour's verbal advice."

"Yet I am constrained to try to stop their threatened divorce."

"So I lean upon you to give them the intimate medical advice on their boudoir behavior."

"Thus, I order 500 copies at a time of your sex booklets and Marriage Rating Scales."

"Then I give such couples a five-minute 'Dutch Uncle' talk, hand them several of your newspaper booklets and tell them to go home and read them together."

"Thus, I can clear my conscience by knowing I have set them on the right track for happy marriage."

"Besides, I then don't need to charge them more than $10 to $15 for my own brief interview."

"Dr. Crane, I don't know if the newspaper syndicate informs you of such requests for booklets as mine, but I'd suggest you double check, just to find out what a widespread professional counseling service your newspaper 'Worry Clinic' really offers Americans."

Not only do my fellow medics imitate Dr. Zee in this regard but other professions do likewise.

For example, over 3,000 dental surgeons each year write to me for these scientific booklets to use in casual aid to distraught patients.

Many divorce lawyers and a number of Divorce Court Judges likewise try to nip threatened divorces in the bud by urging the prospective litigants to rate each other on the 200-point "Tests for Husbands and Wives" as well as "Tests for Parents."

Clergymen in Canada and the U.S.A. also order these booklets in quantities ranging from 50 to 500 to employ in their pastoral counseling.

Others hand a copy to every mother in the congregation on "Mother's Day."

On Valentine's Day, other alert pastors distribute copies of the "Rating Scales for Sweethearts" to their teen-age and young married couples.

A number of university Deans likewise order quantities of the "Solace for the Bereaved" booklet, to give to parents of their college youth who die in auto wrecks, en route to or from college.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of Dixon Evening Telegraph, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs.)

We invite you to use our $150,000.00 worth of equipment for only $1.95... or pennies!

RAKING IN THE CLOVER—Walter Cornelius, 54, a 224-pound swimming-pool attendant in Peterborough, England, digs into a dish of clover and grass. Cornelius adopted the diet-Christmas Eve in an effort to keep down his food bills. He supplements his diet with milk. (AP Wirephoto)

The Doctor Says:

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.
DEAR DR. LAMB — My husband has just had his second hemorrhoidectomy in 20 years. We know other people who are hemorrhoid sufferers and are wondering the following: What are hemorrhoids? What causes them? Why do they sometimes recur after surgical removal and what can be done to prevent them?
I'm sure if you answer these questions you will enlighten many of us as hemorrhoids are quite a problem for so many people.
DEAR READER — Hemorrhoids are nothing more than dilated veins around the rectum. They are just like varicose veins of the legs except for their location.

There are generally two types of hemorrhoids, the external type, outside the sphincter, and the internal type, inside the sphincter. The outside ones cause pain, itching and discomfort.
The worst problem comes when a small clot forms in the dilated vein. A clot is called a thrombus so these are called thrombosed hemorrhoids or thrombosed piles. Sometimes these need to be lanced and drained, but usually they go away on their own after causing the discomfort. The small scarred tag of tissue left behind may be a persistent source of itching.
The internal hemorrhoids may not cause any symptoms, but they can bleed silently, in small or large amounts.

Trying to answer what causes hemorrhoids is a bit like answering what causes varicose veins. In general anything that increases the pressure inside the thin-walled veins may cause them to dilate excessively and become sac-like structures. Being below the heart is one cause of increased pressure. It is no accident that dilated veins are in the legs, around the rectum and, in men, within the scrotum (varicocele). You don't see people with dilated veins in the head because the head is above the heart, and there is little or no pressure inside the veins in the head region. You don't see hemorrhoids in animals where the rectum is above the heart, as in most four-footed grazing animals. Part of the problem, then, goes back to our being upright animals.

Pressure around the rectum distending the veins can also be caused by childbirth, and many women will have hemorrhoid problems after pregnancy. Abdominal tumors and probably even being overweight can contribute to the pressure problems.
Constipation and poor bowel habits are a major factor in causing hemorrhoids. The pressure during forceful bowel movements really balloons out the elastic veins. This is a tip then on what you can do to avoid them. Maintain good bowel habits, avoiding laxatives and stool straining. For more information on this aspect of hemorrhoids, write to me in care of Dixon Evening Telegraph, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019 and ask for the booklet on hemorrhoids. Send 50 cents to cover costs.

Never overlook the possibility that pressure from a cancer of the rectum above the hemorrhoids may cause them to appear. Everyone who develops hemorrhoids or who has rectal bleeding must have an examination. If it is more serious than just hemorrhoids, early diagnosis and treatment can be lifesaving.

NOTICE

IN RE:
Amended Petition To Detach and Disconnect Property From Dixon Community Fire Protection District

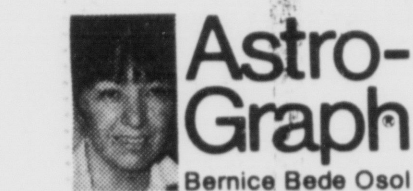

74-MR-363
Please Take Notice that on January 30, 1975, at 9:00 o'clock, A.M., a hearing will be held in the third floor courtroom of the Lee County Courthouse, Dixon, Illinois, on the Amended Petition of Donald Gleim and Marilyn Gleim to detach and disconnect the following described property from the Dixon Community Fire Protection District:

The Fractional North One-Half (1/2) of the Northeast One Quarter (NE 1/4) of Section 2 consisting of 73.70 acres and also the South One-half (1/2) of the Northeast One-quarter (NE 1/4) of Section 2 consisting of 80 acres, all in Township Twenty (20) North, Range Eight (8) East of the Fourth Principal Meridian, situate in Lee County, Illinois.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
Instructions you're following won't be followed. Actually, unless you keep tabs on things, step-by-step.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
Keep everything out in the open in dealings now or you're going to make a faulty decision trying to cover up.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
Partnership situations are tricky today. You could be pressured into doing something against your better judgment.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
Devote your full attention to what you're doing if working with your hands, especially if some sharp instrument is required.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
You will be a little too insistent on having your own way. This won't earn many points for you from your mate.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
Don't be sharp or domineering with those preforming a service for you if you expect it to be done efficiently.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
Be unusually mindful of your possessions or a prized article may get lost or damaged through your carelessness.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)
If you shake things up too much in a business matter, you're going to shelve some of the benefits as well.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
Your attention span isn't all it should be. You're apt to start several things you won't complete till much later.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
Be careful not to be taken advantage of again by a self-serving friend who always leaves you on the short end.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)
You're going to be let down by someone on whom you're relying to do something for you. Have a back-up plan.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)
Don't let unimportant issues sidetrack you from your main theme now. Keep one goal in mind at a time.

JEFF VOSS of Lanark grabs a rebound between Mt. Morris players Dan Waddelow (22) and Bruce Hongsermeier (44) midway through the first quarter of the Mounder-Beaver non-conference game at Mt. Morris Tuesday night. Four Mounder starters reached double figures as Mt. Morris battered the visitors 79-56. (Telegraph Photo)

With 31 points in third quarter Mounders crush Lanark

By MIKE CUNIFF
Telegraph Sports Editor

MT. MORRIS—The Mt. Morris Mounders awoke Tuesday morning to find themselves rated 15th in the Class A Illinois High School basketball poll. The Lanark Beavers greeted the new day with the realization they were rated 51st.

Tuesday night Mt. Morris showed why it was ranked 36 spots ahead of Lanark, by pounding the Beavers 79-56, here, in a non-conference game. The final result was not a true indication of the contest, which was all over when the Mounders outscored the visitors by a 15-2 margin late in the third quarter to assume a 57-23 advantage.

Mounders Jump to Lead

Mt. Morris bolted to a 14-6 lead after the first frame as Bruce Hongsermeier and Steve Pease tossed in two baskets each while Rich Masters, Ron Alden and Andrew Reckmeyer collected one apiece. Masters got the opening bucket and after Kraig Kniss missed a field-goal attempt for Lanark, Alden hauled down the board and fired a quick outlet pass to Reckmeyer, who scooted down-court for a lay-up.

Lanark never got untracked in the quarter as the Beavers hit only three of 14 attempts, including six misses from less than 10 feet in the final half-minute of play. A stingy Mounder 2-1-2 zone defense kept Lanark from working the ball inside to their center, Cory Hoffman.

The Beavers were forced outside and could not hit. Lanark upped its shooting percentage in the second quarter by hooping 5 of 14 shots, but were still outscored in the eight minutes by a count of 16-11 with six different Mt. Morris players finding the range.

Pease Gets Two and Two

Pease clicked on two baskets and the same number of free throws while Hongsermeier got a pair of key buckets to extend a 14-9 Mounder lead to nine points at the start of the quarter. Mt. Morris duplicated its first-stanza shooting statistics by netting 6 of 14 attempts.

With a 30-17 advantage after the first half, the Mounders put the game away with a 27-point explosion in the opening six minutes of the third quarter by bombing in a dozen baskets in only 14 shots. Hongsermeier had a trio of 15-footers and assisted on a lay-up by Pease after stealing a pass.

Pease also added two more buckets while Alden cracked in three baskets, three free throws, and set up two Reckmeyer baskets with outlet passes from the defensive board. Masters tacked on a turn-around jump shot and two charity tosses.

End Up With 14 of 19

The Mounders missed three of their final five shots in the stanza but still finished with 14 out of 19 in the eight minutes. Lanark also hit over 50 per cent for the quarter with 8 hoops in 15 chances, but seven turnovers were costly. Three of the buckets were offensive rebounds with Hoffman, Bill Chesney and Bob McInnis popping in one each.

Tom Martz tossed in eight points with six free-throw conversions, and Kniss had two buckets and a quartet of charity tosses to help the Beavers to a 22-18 advantage in the point derby for the final period, but it was little consolation to the visitors, who dropped their fourth game in 11 outings.

Reserves played most of the way in the last eight minutes

Sauk Valley loses to Springfield

By EDWIN CALLAHAN
Telegraph Sports Writer

SAUK VALLEY—The Sauk Valley Redmen's New Year got off to a bad start, here, as they lost out to the Springfield College Bulldogs in a narrow 102-96 game Tuesday night. The loss was especially frustrating as Sauk Valley overcame a 16-point deficit halfway through the second half, to threaten the lead in the last few minutes. But foul calls, missed free throws, and weaknesses in team play kept the Redmen from making the last few points needed to take the lead.

The game was basically an offensive one; neither team's defense particularly shone. Though the Redmen managed to close off the inside from Springfield toward the end of the game, the Bulldogs, led by Gregg Finigan, hit from the outside. Sauk proved better at hitting from under the basket, but not enough to take the game.

Springfield took the first point when Finigan hit a free throw 20 seconds into the game. The Bulldogs made their first basket on Finigan's shot 23 seconds later. Sauk guard Steve Hook made the first of 27 points by hitting from the outside and putting the Redmen on the board at 18:46. Half-a-minute later Finigan hit a field goal from under the basket and was fouled by Randy Paisley. He sank the free throw to give the Bulldogs a 6-2 lead.

Sauk got in the action again a minute later when Paisley hit for a field goal. Hook added another, to tie the score at 6-6. Redman center Mike Friedlein dumped one from under the basket a few seconds later to put Sauk ahead. Sauk almost instantly lost the lead, as Bulldogs Bill Gum and Gary Parks dumped one apiece within a few seconds of each other.

John Windham hit one for Sauk to tie the score at 16:19. Hook made it 12-10 with a field goal from outside. The score was tied again when Park tipped in a rebound.

The next minute and a half the two teams traded baskets and the score remained tied. Finally, Windham scored two field goals in a row to put the Redmen ahead 22-18. Sauk maintained this lead for the next five minutes. With little over eight minutes left in the half, however, a field goal apiece by Gum and Finigan gave the Bulldogs the lead again. Springfield held the advantage for only a few seconds before Sauk forward Tom Zinnanni made three points off a field goal and a free throw.

With 7:10 left, Mark Dusek fouled Paisley, who sank two free throws, giving Sauk a three-point lead. Sauk held this lead for four minutes, but, with 3:27 left, Finigan tied the game with a bucket and a free throw. Twenty seconds later another of his buckets put Springfield ahead. A shot by Hook tied the game again, but Gum hit another bucket and Jim Loyd sank two free throws to give the Bulldogs a lead that lasted the rest of the game. The first half ended with the score 53-49 in favor of Springfield.

The Bulldogs started out the second half with two quick baskets by Carl Sabor and Gerry Beagles. The Redmen did not score for more than a minute until Paisley, fouled by Beagles, sank two free throws. For the next 10 minutes, Springfield slowly increased its lead, paced by Gum, Sabo, and Finigan. With a little over eight minutes left in the game, Finigan hit the bucket to put the score at 90-75.

Bit by bit, the Redmen began to whittle down this lead over the rest of the game. Baskets by Mike Stockwell, Zinnanni, and Hook reduced the margin to 93-86. Sabo made a field goal, to put the score at 95-86. Paisley got two points on a layup, only to be matched by Finigan's field goal a few seconds later. Gum then stole the ball from the Redmen, drove the length of the court, and scored.

With less than four minutes left, Hook hit a field goal but missed two free throws a few seconds later. Sabo dumped a bucket to put the score at 101-90, with three minutes left. This was the last Bulldog field goal of the game, as they switched to stalling the ball and the Redmen's defense picked up. Stockwell picked up a free throw and Paisley made two, making the score 101-93.

The two teams spent the next minute trading foul calls and missing free throws. With 1:03 left, Doug Mitchell hit one out of his two free throws and Stockwell dumped one a few seconds later to make the score 101-96. Beagles sank a free throw, to make the score 102-96. The Redmen rebounded the ball but were unable to connect before the clock ran out.

"This was one of those games in which we didn't execute," was Sauk Valley Redmen Coach Frank Palumbo's evaluation.

of the game. "We didn't function as a unit."

"There was a little too much one-on-one when not called for," he went on to say. "I like them to be aggressive, but not when it isn't necessary. They did things they knew they couldn't do but they tried them anyway. Mike Stockwell, coming off the bench, almost pulled it out for us," Palumbo added. The Redmen now host Black Hawk College on Thursday.

Hook led the Redmen in scoring with 27 points. Windham was second with 20, Paisley had 15, and Stockwell had 13. Finigan was the top scorer of his team and of the game with 31 points. Gum was second with 29, while Sabo had 18.

Sport notes

Croegaert accepts invitation

AMBOY—Gary Croegaert, Amboy head varsity basketball coach, has accepted an invitation to serve as a member of the final player selection committee for the Illinois All-Star basketball games to be held this summer.

Croegaert's invitation came from the board of directors of the Illinois Basketball Coaches Association (IBCA). The committee will be comprised of four members of the IBCA Board, six prep sports writers geographically selected, and 10 coaches-at-large equally divided between Class A and Class AA schools.

The purpose of the committee will be to select the final 44 players who will comprise the four squads that will participate in the All-Star games at Horton Field House at Illinois State University on July 12.

The games will match Class A North versus Class A South plus Class AA North and Class AA South. Nominations of players will be screened by 17 District Nominating Committees.

ABA attendance is up

NEW YORK—Attendance in the American Basketball Association is up 147,994 (16.4 per cent) over a similar period a year ago, it was announced by Commissioner Ted Munchak. A total of 1,060,337 fans have watched the 174 games played thus far, compared with 902,343 for a like number of contests last season.

"Each of our nine holdover franchises have shown increases in attendance," said Munchak. "And for the most part, the growth in attendance has been very significant."

New York is the overall leader in attendance, averaging 8,809 for 15 home games, followed by Indiana with 8,604 in 16 games, Kentucky 8,715 in 20 contests and San Antonio 7,785 in 16 games. The Spurs' attendance has increased 71 per cent while Denver's crowds are up by 42.4 per cent.

Chili supper

The Dixon Boosters Club will have a chili supper on Jan. 11 from 4 p.m. to 7:30. Tickets are $1.50 for adults and $1 for children under 12. The price includes a bowl of chili, a hot dog, a piece of pie and a drink.

Walnut is 9-5

NEW BEDFORD—The number 13 is supposedly unlucky. The Manlius Red Devils collected 13 points in each of the first three quarters, here, Tuesday night and dropped a 59-51 Bureau Valley Conference basketball contest to the visiting Walnut Blue Raiders.

Mike Munger tossed in eight points as the Blue Raiders moved out to a 21-13 lead at the end of the first quarter. Walnut, which shot 53 per cent in the opening half, could not put the game away and hit on only 27 per cent of its shots in the final 16 minutes.

Dave McFadden, Walnut head varsity coach, stated, "In the first half, we worked the ball around well. They were in a zone the whole game, but the second half we tried to go inside too much and turned the ball over."

Joe Gibson paced the Blue Raider win with 16 points and 13 rebounds, with seven at the offensive end. Munger finished with 14 markers and Gary Carter got a dozen. Dennis Eckberg was limited to eight points, but managed 10 rebounds. Walnut had a total of 38 boards, to 21 for Manlius.

The Blue Raiders are now 2-1 in the Bureau Valley and 9-5 overall. Walnut, which was rated 59th in the Class A Illinois High School basketball poll this week, now hosts Bradford Friday.

Performance picks 1974 NEA All-Pros

By MURRAY OLDERMAN
SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. —

(NEA) — The 20th annual NEA All-Pro team, announced today, proves again that in the eyes of the professionals, who pick them, it's what they do on the field, today, that counts.

And so on this 1974 assemblage there are half a dozen of the National Football League's best who have never before been seriously considered for all-pro honors.

They are men such as Cliff Branch, the wide receiver of the Oakland Raiders, who hadn't even been a starter before '74; Mel Gray, the swift receiver of the St. Louis Cardinals, lost in the crowd for three years; guard Ed White of the Minnesota Vikings, the strongest man on a team noted for physicality and yet largely unrecognized; Lawrence McCutcheon, the fine fullback of the Los Angeles Rams, a taxi squaddier just two years ago; Fred Dryer, the Rams' defensive end, supposed to be too light to rate with the best, and, finally, Tony Greene, the sparkling safety of the Buffalo Bills, who figured to be a spare at corner back before the season.

Rounding out two decades of picking the NFL's elite, Newspaper Enterprise Association made a departure this year in the method of selection. There is now in the NFL a unique breed of talent assessor — knowledgeable coaches who devote their full time to scouting the players on all 26 teams, who know better than anyone else the strengths and weaknesses of individuals — men such as Jack Faulkner of the Rams, Ernie Allen of the Cowboys, Bob Mischak of the Raiders, and so on.

The pro scouts of all the clubs were consulted to assemble the following team:

OFFENSE

Wide Receiver — Cliff Branch, Oakland, 26, 5-11, 170, 3rd year. Super threat on a strong team.

Wide Receiver — Mel Gray, St. Louis, 26, 5-9, 175, 4th year. Game breaker for surprising Cards.

Tight End — Riley Odoms, Denver, 24, 6-4, 235, 3rd year. Tops of a talent-filled field of challengers.

Right Tackle — Ron Yary, Minnesota, 28, 6-5, 255, 7th year. Becoming an automatic choice.

Left Tackle — Art Shell, Oakland, 28, 6-5, 275, 7th year. Finally getting the acclaim due him.

Right Guard — Ed White, Minnesota, 27, 6-2, 280, 6th year. He has the power to blow people out.

Left Guard — Gale Gillingham, Green Bay, 30, 6-3, 265, 9th year. Gilly never gets discouraged.

Center — Jim Langer, Miami, 26, 6-2, 253, 5th year. One of the prize $100 waiver picks ever.

Quarterback — Ken Stabler, Oakland, 29, 6-3, 215, 5th year. The new lord of the field generals.

Running Back — O. J. Simpson, Buffalo, 27, 6-1, 212, 6th year. Neither hail nor rain nor sleet ...

Running Back — Lawrence McCutcheon, Los Angeles, 24, 6-1, 205, 2nd year. Bread and butter breakaway man.

Placekicker — Jan Stenerud, Kansas City, 32, 6-2, 187, 8th year. Still most dangerous sidwinder.

DEFENSE

Left End — Claude Humphrey, Atlanta, 30, 6-5, 265, 7th year. Still the man to defense on a losing team.

Right End — Fred Dryer, Los Angeles, 28, 6-6, 240, 6th year. Had spectacular pass rushing campaign.

Left Tackle — Joe Greene, Pittsburgh, 28, 6-4, 275, 6th year. Even when he lets up, he's mean.

Right Tackle — Alan Page, Minnesota, 29, 6-4, 245, 8th year. For mobility, never one like him.

Middle Linebacker — Willie Lanier, Kansas City, 29, 6-1, 245, 8th year. Honey Bear goes out on high note.

Left Linebacker — Ted Hendricks, Green Bay, 27, 6-7, 220, 6th year. Mad Stork had his best year yet.

Right Linebacker — Jack Ham, Pittsburgh, 26, 6-1, 225, 4th year. Year, we know he normally plays left side.

Corner Back — Roger Wehrli, St. Louis, 27, 6-0, 190, 6th year. A veteran who came back strongly.

Corner Back — Robert James, Buffalo, 27, 6-1, 184, 6th year. He's tough on wide receivers, physically.

Strong Safety — Dick Anderson, Miami, 28, 6-2, 196, 7th year. There is no header player around.

Free Safety — Tony Greene, Buffalo, 25, 5-10, 170, 4th year. He consistently made the big play.

Punter — Ray Guy, Oakland, 25, 6-3, 190, 2nd year. The strongest foot in all of football.
